1. Education – Health for Life

Education and medicine working together for a healthy development

Edited and co-authored by, Dr Michaela Gloeckler, Stefan Langhammer and Christof Weichert

Kolisko conferences have become known around the world, for their medical-pedagogical content, seeking to strengthen the understanding of Waldorf (Steiner) education. Earlier, run every 4 years, in one country only, 9 conferences were organised in 2006 around the world in: India, Taiwan, , South Africa, Philippines, Ukraine, Australia, Mexico, Sweden and culminating in France in the UNESCO facilities in Paris. Dr Michaela Gloeckler was a keynote lecturer in each of these conferences.

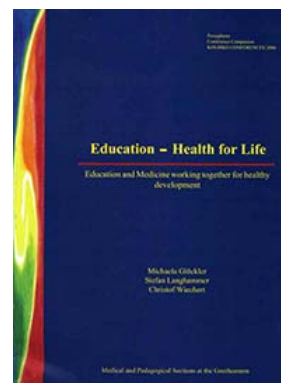

Out of the world wide impulse of the Kolisko conferences 2006, came the request for a conference compendium. The concept of the book developed from one of specific published research to a text which shares the experiences and thoughts of more than 15 individuals well known in their fields. The driving force for this text was Dr Michaela Gloeckler, paediatrician who was also a waldorf teacher. There are 20 chapters, with numerous sub-chapters, the contents of which range from The Task of the School Doctor, Gifted Children, Meditations for Teachers, to Projective Geometry. A particularly moving chapter contains questions from teachers, such as How do I love my children, particularly the difficult ones, and individual support work: what age can this start?

Some of our experienced teachers have seen this book and said there is such a depth to the book that they can work with it for years.

The books are in A4 format, have 309 pages and a soft cover with fold back fly sheet. They weigh approximately 800 gm. They are available from the following centres:

2. Australia Kolisko Conference Papers 2006

Edited by Annette Brian and Sue Scott

Motivated by the interest in conference papers after the 2004 Kolisko conference in Sydney, the conference organisers chose to pre print the conference papers for 'The Health Giving Power of Education' conference 2006. Workshop facilitators were invited to submit a paper, and 18 were able to do so.

Authors include Dr David Ritchie, Robyn Ritchie and Susan Turnbull of New Zealand, as well as Ben Cherry, Peter Glasby, Dr Paulo Moraes and Ann Jacobson. Topics range from Pathways to working with the etheric in education, The rate of learning to read in a Steiner School, to Autism and Asperger's – the enchanted world.

The Papers were published by the Australian Anthroposophic Medicine Association and funds raised from this book are to be donated to the Medical Section in Switzerland. They are in A4 format, and have 95 pages.
